Windows SharePoint Services is a versatile Windows Server technology that organizations and business units of all sizes can use to help increase the efficiency of business processes and improve team productivity. Windows SharePoint Services provides a robust storage and collaboration infrastructure, a foundation platform for building Web-based applications and services, and easy to use tools for information-sharing that help people stay connected across organizational and geographic boundaries and gain access to the information they need.
Compare the features and benefits of Windows SharePoint Services 3.0 with previous versions, and see how upgrading to Windows SharePoint Services 3.0 can help keep your team on track.
Included in This Document
Create, Capture, and Share Community Knowledge
Connect with Users Inside and Outside the Organization
Keep Teams in Sync
Help Protect Critical Information Resources
Extend the Platform with New Capabilities
Features
Broadcast Information with Blogs
New features include posting via the Web, e-mail, or directly from Microsoft Office Word 2007; archive views; and Really Simple Syndication (RSS) feeds.
Capture Community Knowledge with Wikis
Wikis are great tools to capture knowledge. Based on a group editing model, wikis encourage everyone to contribute. Wikis can be used as forums to brainstorm ideas, manage knowledge bases, create designs or instruction guides, or simply gather information in an easy-to-edit format. WYSIWYG and rich-text formatting enhance the editing experience.

Manage Document Metadata with Content Types

Content types enable documents with different metadata attributes to be stored in the same library. These attributes can be accessed and managed from Windows SharePoint Services as well as 2007 Microsoft Office system programs, such as Word, Microsoft Office Excel, and Microsoft Office PowerPoint.

Gantt Chart View

Task, issue, and project issue list data can now be viewed graphically, giving team members an at-a-glance indicator of a projects current status.

Predefined Workspaces

Teams can share documents, manage schedules, and stay connected.

Roni Deutch is recognized nationwide as an experienced tax debt attorney and founder of the nation's largest law firm dedicated to resolving IRS back taxes. Roni's firm began as one-person practice in a small condo but has grown into largest tax resolution law firm in the nation that has employed hundreds of people. Her tax law firm has assisted thousands of taxpayers across the country find the appropriate relief from IRS. Today her competitive spirit continues as she reaches out to those in need of help with IRS tax debts.

Roni attended the University of California at Berkeley, where she obtained a double major in Pre-Law and Ethnic studies and played third base on the women's softball team as a nationally ranked player. After college, she built on her Pre-Law platform when she attended Western State University College of Law with an emphasis in tax law. In law school, she developed an awareness of the pitfalls of the Federal Taxation system and of the devastating financial impact it can have on the lives of those who become indebted to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). This awareness spurred her to become the president of the student tax association and to advance in her studies in law school to obtain an advanced LL.M. degree (Latin for Legum Magister) or Master of Laws.
